Coal Miners Strike Today In Six States

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Soft-coal miners in six states struck today in a dispute over a new contract.

Miners failed to report at operations in western Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Illinois, Kentucky, Alabama and Ohio in the contract dispute between the United Mine Workers and the mine owners.

An estimated 15,000 miners were off the job. The number was expected to swell.

In Washington, a spokesman at UMW headquarters said "there wasn't any sanction" for the walkouts. The spokesman said the situation between the union and the Bituminous Coal Operators Association was unchanged from Friday.

UMW President W.A. Boyle had said then the union "considered itself at liberty to strike at any time."

As late as Sunday afternoon, UMW Vice President George Titler said he knew nothing of a rank-and-file movement for a strike.

But "we don't have a contract and we can't work without one," said C.W. Moore, president of a local at the Bell and Zollar Mining Co. Oriole mine near Madisonville, Ky.

The Washington UMW spokesman said Boyle and BCOA officials meet sometime today to reopen negotiations but the time was uncertain.

The mineworkers' contract with the BCOA expired April 1, but miners had continued to work pending the outcome of negotiations which began on Feb. 21.

The union reached agreement Friday with three coal producers employing 6,500 of the UMW's 100,000 members in the soft coal industry.

The three were Peabody Coal Co. of St. Louis, Mo., the nation's largest soft coal producer; Ayrshire Collieries of Indianapolis, Ind., and Southwest Illinois Coal Corp.

The agreement provided for an initial hike of $1.32 per day retroactive to April 1, bringing top-rated miners to $30 per day. A second raise of $1.00 per day is scheduled to go into effect on April 1, 1967.

The contracts also included eight paid holidays and other fringe benefits.

Wayne Cancer Fighters Laud Vaccination

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne State University medical researchers say they may have discovered a way to treat cancer by vaccination.

Results they claim for a four-year program so far include:

— Two cancer patients, earlier given up as hopeless cases, completely freed of their tumors.

— Eight others once considered beyond help still alive, their cancers either halted or growing more slowly.

— Two patients with advanced tumors, their lives believed prolonged by the treatments.

Others among the 20 patients treated showed no improvement, said Dr. Paul L. Wolf, Wayne State professor of pathology and director of experimental pathology at the Detroit Institute of Cancer Research.

Failure in these cases, Dr. Wolf said, probably came because the disease was too far advanced and the patient's body no longer capable of producing cancer-fighting antibodies.

The Wayne group's vaccine, he explained, aids the victim's body in producing these antibodies.

Many cancer patients are lost, Dr. Wolf said, because their bodies don't fight the disease. The body recognizes the malignant cells as part of it, and doesn't react by producing the chemicals needed to kill them.

The Wayne State group combines cancerous cells taken from the patient with chemicals obtained from the cells of rabbits. Then the combination is injected into the patient.

His body recognizes the matter as foreign and produces antibodies to fight it. In the process, Dr. Wolf said, the antibodies may kill or retard the tumor.

Sally Katzen Is First Girl Editor For Law Review

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — The new editor-in-chief of the University of Michigan's Law Review insists it wasn't an omen when the editor's office was redecorated in pale pink and a white.

The new paint job appeared three weeks before Sally Katzen, 23, became the first woman named to hold the top post on the university's quarterly legal journal.

The pretty brunette from Pittsburgh heads a staff of 24 associate and assistant editors — all men — on what is considered by many lawyers one of the top publications of its kind in the United States. The journal frequently is cited in litigants' briefs and court decisions.

Sally already has begun to break with tradition by making personal visits to solicit research contributions from the university's law professors.

"I've been told the job will take about 60 hours a week," she said, "but I hope I won't have to give up my social life."

As a second-year law student Sally also will carry a 12-semester hour academic load.

"They say you're supposed to do about three hours of homework for every hour in class, so maybe I'll just give up sleeping," she laughed.

An honors graduate of Smith College, Sally already has compiled an impressive legal background.

One summer she did legal research for a U.S. Senate subcommittee on constitutional rights and last summer she was a research assistant for the Civil Rights Division of the Department of Justice.

She has been interested in civil rights since her days at Smith, "but not in such a way that I would go out in the streets and march," she said.

Yank-Aided Ky Govt. Opposed As Anti-Civilian

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military government braced today for more street violence after the Buddhist leadership vowed to keep up demonstrations until the U.S.-backed junta quits.

"Only when our aspirations are met and our demands satisfied will there be no more demonstrations," the country's most powerful monks declared in a joint statement Sunday.

In militant tones echoing their declarations of political war on the government of the late President Ngo Dinh Diem three years ago, the Buddhists accused the regime of lying, irresponsibility and placing "too many obstacles" in the way of civilian rule.

At a news conference in Saigon, the monks asked the nation to rally behind the "Viet Nam Buddhist Forces," a new anti-government political action organization created by them.

They were asked if a popular civilian government might seek peace with the Communists and order the withdrawal of U.S. forces. Thich Thien Minh, co-leader of the Viet Nam Buddhist Forces and chairman of the militant Buddhist Youth Movement, replied:

"Abide By Nonviolence"

"If that is what the people want, then that is what they will get. We want to fulfill the aspirations of the people."

The Buddhist leaders denied they were anti-American or responsible for the attacks on individual Americans by rioting, Buddhist-led youths in Saigon last week. "The monks involved were just letting off steam," they said. "We abide by nonviolence."

The overwhelming majority of South Viet Nam's more than 14 million people are at least nominally Buddhists, although Roman Catholics comprise about 10 per cent of the population. There are also important minority religious sects.

Exploit Unrest

The government charged that the Viet Cong had been instructed by the National Liberation Front's Central Committee to take advantage of the unrest. A government intelligence source was quoted by the official Viet Nam Press as saying that on March 12 the committee ordered Viet Cong agents to emphasize political agitation "by instigating the population to topple the government."

A slackening in U.S. ground operations coincided with the political uncertainty in Saigon, but an American spokesman said new operations were being planned. Government forces reported repulsing a Communist attack on a Special Forces camp in Kien Tuong Province about 45 miles west of Saigon near the Cambodian border. They claimed 140 Reds killed, most of them by air attack, against light government casualties.

Hit Green Berets

Heavy casualties were reported among the five or six U.S. Special Forces men — "Green Berets"—at the camp.

U.S. planes kept up their daily bombardments of North Viet Nam Monday, but the number of missions in the South was down from the usual figure of 450 to 500 to about 300. Reliable sources attributed the curtailment to a temporary shortage of bombs and other explosives resulting from a transportation problem. They said U.S. officials hope to overcome the shortage quickly.

While an interlude of calm prevailed in Saigon's streets Easter Sunday, there were signs of a lessening of tension in Da Nang, where anti-Ky military officers virtually declared their independence of the government last week.

Fire Fatal To 18-Year-Olds

MUSKEGON HEIGHTS (AP) —Two 18-year-old boys died Sunday when fire swept a Muskegon Heights home as they slept.

The victims were Thomas Cross and Douglas Herrala.

Police said Herrala, of Spring Lake, was staying at the Cross home while Cross' parents were visiting relatives out-of-state. The youths were alone in the house.

Fire Chief James Mulready said the cause of the blaze in the one-story frame house was not determined.

Vandals Daub Oak Park Cars

OAK PARK (AP) — Vandals struck here on Easter Sunday morning, painting swastikas and obscenities on autos and garages.

Oak Park, a city of about 40,000, has a large Jewish population, Patrolman George Armour said.

Armour said at least 22 cars and two garages were smeared with red paint swastikas and slogans such as "Hitler," "Gestapo," "Hell's Angels" and obscene words.

He said the vandals, believed to be "older teenagers," struck on about five residential streets during the night. He said no arrests had been made.

Soviets Expect Their Man On Moon In '68

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union is preparing for the celebration Tuesday of the fifth anniversary of Yuri Gagarin's first manned space flight, with optimistic talk about putting a man on the moon.

Soviet cosmonauts have been giving indications that their government will attempt man's great lunar adventure sooner than had been expected.

Alexei Leonov, the first man to walk in space, March 18, 1965, said in Budapest that a Russian will land on the moon as early as 1968.

Gagarin told the Czechoslovak news agency that Soviet space research had advanced more rapidly than planned. He said he was convinced there would be a man on the moon within the next five years.

Gherman Titov, the second Soviet cosmonaut, predicted Sunday that the moon would become a giant space center where ships would be built for flights "into the depths of the universe." He talked of complicated operations being undertaken in space by men "soon."

The cosmonauts, all speaking in connection with the Gagarin anniversary, made no mention of President Johnson's claim that the United States would beat the Soviet Union in putting a man on the moon. The President gave 1970 as the target for the U.S. program.

The cosmonauts' optimism gets support from two big successes the Soviet space program has already achieved in 1966.

First came the soft landing on the moon Feb. 3 by the unmanned Luna 9 spaceship.

On April 3 Luna 10 was put into orbit around the moon, another first and another essential for getting a man there. The most discussed plan for a manned landing calls for the trip to be made in stages, jumping off for the final one from a lunar satellite.

One possible next step in the Soviet program is a manned flight to explore the vicinity of the moon without attempting a landing.

Soviet space flights are never announced in advance. The cosmonauts give hints in general terms, but the world can only guess the rest.

A current rumor is that another space spectacular will be launched Tuesday on the anniversary of Gagarin's flight.

Mayor Happy

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Mayor George Whitmer must have been happy he is from Des Moines.

Arthur Fagerston wrote him from Valley Stream, N.Y.:

"My area has been affected by drought, water pollution, a blackout and a transit strike. What is your biggest problem?"

Arthur is 9 years old.

VICTOR C. DiStefano, 34, of Allen Park, Mich., says his Brooklyn, N.Y., draft board has ordered him to report to a Detroit induction center April 23. DiStefano is the father of eight children. He also is a registered nurse. He has asked the draft board to recheck his status. (AP Wirephoto)

May Primaries Bring Tests Of Johnson Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Party primaries in 13 states will offer some tests at the polls next month of President Johnson's Viet Nam policies.

They will provide hints also on the extent of the political upheaval that has raised Republican hopes in the South. They seem likely to demonstrate more party division among Democrats than among Republicans.

Oregon's May 24 primary is shaping up as a test of Pacific Northwest sentiment on Johnson's conduct of the Southeast Asian war.

GOP Gov. Mark O. Hatfield, who is critical of the President's policies, seems certain to become his party's nominee for the Senate seat being vacated by Democratic Sen. Maurine B. Neuberger.

In the Democratic primary, Rep. Robert B. Duncan has jumped into the senatorial nomination race with an announcement of all-out support for Johnson's course.

Howard Morgan, a member of the Federal Power Commission in the Kennedy administration, is in the contest with the claimed support of Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., outspoken dissenter to the Johnson war policies.

See Demo Chaos

Primary voting takes place May 3 in Alabama, Florida, Indiana, Ohio, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

In Alabama, which has seen some switching by local officials from the Democratic to Republican parties, Mrs. George C. Wallace is trying for the Democratic nomination for governor, for which her husband is barred from running again.

Republicans think that the Democrats may come out of this contest so disorganized that GOP Rep. James D. Martin could win the governorship in the fall elections. They are hoping any such result might increase their 5-3 margin over Democrats in House seats.

Democratic Sen. John J. Sparkman has no primary election opposition but may face a tough Republican challenge in November.

Friends At Odds

Gov. John B. Connally, a supporter of the President's Viet Nam course who is at odds with his old friend Johnson on some domestic issues, is counted as certain of winning renomination in the May 7 Texas primary.

In Nebraska, on May 10, Gov. Frank B. Morrison is likely to become the Democratic nominee to oppose GOP Sen. Carl T. Curtis in what would be billed as a liberal vs. conservative general election contest. Curtis, a conservative, has supported Johnson's war policies. Morrison has voiced no dissent.

West Virginia's May 10 primary will be followed by those in Pennsylvania May 17, Kentucky May 24 and North Carolina May 29.

The Pennsylvania voting will coincide with the filing deadline in New York State, where the Democrats are far from achieving any unity on a candidate to oppose GOP Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

Easter Rising Ideal Lost Say Food Strikers

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Eighteen young Irish militants started a hunger strike today as their nation celebrated the 50th anniversary of the Easter uprising.

The youths said they would fast from noon today until 3:45 p.m. Saturday, recalling the duration of the bloody 1916 rebellion crushed by the British. The uprising eventually led to the creation of the Irish Republic.

Ireland has no cause to celebrate, the hunger strikers said. They accused the Irish government of betraying revolutionary ideals by letting Gaelic die out and by tolerating Ireland's partition and economic dependence on Britain.

The hunger strikers included several Dublin University students and six supporters from Belfast in the north. They are members of a fringe organization of the Gaelic revival movement called Misneach — Courage.

Inside Dublin's main post office, Joe Clarke, 84, revisited the place where he participated in the uprising and laid a wreath at the foot of the Cuchulainn statue, which is dedicated to a legendary figure symbolizing Ireland. The wreath carried the words, "To the forgotten ideals of 1916."

Mairtin O'Cadhain, a leading Gaelic author, Sunday night accused the government of selling out the aims of 1916 and fearing the spread of the Irish language because it would stir up Irish nationalism.

Despite these protests, there were no outbreaks of nationalist violence. Irishmen celebrated the anniversary by singing patriotic songs or paused to remember the bitter uprising. The Archbishop of Dublin was to dedicate a garden of remembrance today in Parnell Square, where the British had held most of the prisoners from the post office garrison.

President Eamon de Valera and other 1916 veterans reviewed a military parade by 5,000 Sunday as the Republican flag fluttered atop the post office where once it had been hoisted defiantly.

De Valera, 83 and nearly blind, and Prime Minister Sean Lemass, 61, were closely protected during the ceremonies because of reported threats to their lives by extremists. There were no incidents.

Weekend Auto Toll Is Twelve

By The Associated Press

An Army officer just returned from a two-year combat tour in Viet Nam was killed Sunday in Kalamazoo, bringing the state's weekend traffic toll to 12.

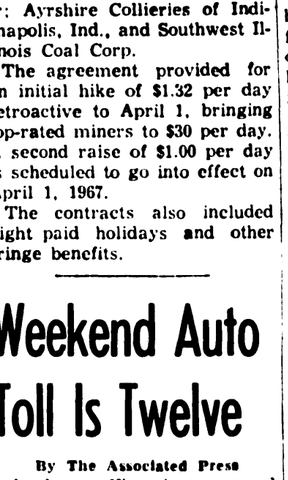
The Associated Press tabulation began at 6:00 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Maj. Edmund C. Truman, 37, of Fayetteville, N.C. was visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Truman, when his car collided with another auto.

A native of Kalamazoo, he had returned to this country April 4 after serving as an advisor to a Vietnamese unit for 25 months. Divorced, he had three children, all of Fayetteville.

Other fatalities include:

Jean P. Morel, 26, of Montreal, when his car hit a tree near Iron River Saturday.



ARTHUR H. Zinner, above, poured gasoline on himself and tried to burn himself to death in protest of the Viet Nam war in front of the White House on Sunday, Washington police said. Zinner, 20, was identified by police as a senior in history at Boston University. The youth was seized before he could ignite the fuel and was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in Washington for observation. (AP Wirephoto)

St. Ignace Fire Loss $250,000

ST. IGNACE—Fire of undetermined cause Sunday afternoon destroyed three connecting buildings housing two stores and a restaurant on N. State St., this Mackinac County seat's main thoroughfare.

The two story brick buildings housed the Gamble store, Fashion shop and Hub restaurant.

Authorities said the wind was light at the time of the fire and that no other buildings were threatened.

All available St. Ignace volunteer firemen were called to battle the blaze. No injuries were reported.

St. Ignace Fire Chief Leonard St. Louis said the fire started in the rear of a department store and spread to two other buildings, gutting all three.

The damage has been estimated at about $250,000.

Twenty-five firemen battled the stubborn blaze for four hours before bringing it under control. Flames soared a hundred or more feet into the air.

Several thousand spectators were attracted by the fire, one of the most devastating in the community's history.

Hunter Safety Class Has 33

Thirty-two boys and one girl registered on Saturday for the hunter safety course sponsored by the Delta County Sportsman's Club with the cooperation of the Department of Conservation.

Neil Carlson, general chairman of the program, said the registration at the City Hall indicated there is interest in the project that is designed to teach hunting safety—not to develop marksmanship.

The sessions, for which dates have not been set as yet, will be held at the Sportsman's Club rifle range.

The primary objective of the course is to teach young hunters between the ages of 12 and 14 the practices of gun safety and to impress upon them their obligation to themselves and others in the field.

Hunting safety and the successful completion of safety training prior to obtaining a hunting license may become law in Michigan if pending legislation is adopted.

Bans Socializing

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — One of the first acts of Judge Horace Geer, new on the Superior Court, was this decision: No more coffee for opposing attorneys during court recesses.

In most courtrooms here when recess time comes attorneys for both sides troop into the judge's chambers and have coffee with the judge.

"I don't think it's proper," said Judge Geer. "Your clients don't like it when you leave them and walk off for a social hour with the opposing attorney."

Wished To Repay The Kindness

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — "They never went anywhere. They had very little fun and spent very little money for anything but necessities. They considered this country had been so good to them, two poor strangers from a foreign land, they wanted in some way to repay the kindness."

This, Bertha Ponton said is why her mother and stepfather, Swiss-born, gave away a fortune they made in more than 50 years hard work operating a dairy.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gottfried Fuchs, arranged for income from their $4 million estate to be distributed annually to worthy causes and projects in Pierce County — where they made the money.

The foundation they established came to light with filing of the will of Mrs. Fuchs, who died Monday at age 86. Her husband, 80, retired in 1959.

School Budget Discussion Set

The Escanaba Area Board of Education will consider a tentative operating budget recommendation of $1,895,910 for submission to the Delta County Tax Allocation Board Tuesday at its regular meeting at the School Administration building.

The figure is about $203,000 higher than the current budget of $1,692,745.

Supt. of Schools Luther M. Barrett emphasized today that the 1966-67 recommendation is only tentative; that the final budget could be higher or lower depending on what contract agreement is reached with teachers through negotiations with the Escanaba chapter of the Michigan Education Association.

He attributed the increase from this year's budget to increased operating expenses due to larger enrollments, a larger allocation for capital outlay in the form of building improvements and adjustments upward in teaching salaries.

Estimated revenues for 1966-67, based on current state formulas and tax allocation, are $1,853,945.

The budget is one of eight items listed for action on the meeting agenda. Supt. Barrett also has 10 items for discussion.

Action items include setting a date for a joint meeting with the Bark River-Harris Board of Education to discuss the proposed school district reorganization, which if approved, would merge the two districts. Vote on the Delta-Schoolcraft county reorganization plan is scheduled July 25.

Also up for action is a proposal under Title I of the Elementary-Secondary Education act which would possibly qualify the Area district for about $86,000 in federal aid. An area citizens committee has been working on development of a remedial reading proposal.

Other items include payment of accounts, appointment of school census takers, special diplomas and agreements with Ford River and Cornell Townships for lease of township hall facilities.

The community school program is scheduled for discussion by Supt. Barrett, as is the annual school election, the 1966-67 calender and the status of professional negotiations with teachers.

Cost Runs High To Fight Cancer

Until cancer is conquered the cost of fighting the disease continues to run high, the Delta County Cancer Society reports.

The Cancer Society spent $395 for direct patient services in March, according to Mrs. Lee Miller of Escanaba Society treasuerer.

The total spent for patient services since Jan. 1 is $1,302 and there was the additional cost of $242 for dressings, making the total $1,544 since the first of the year in Delta County.

Direct patient services disbursements were $260.53 to drug stores, $457 to doctors, and $485 to St. Francis Hospital, and $100 to help defray transportation costs for patients.

Eleven patients received aid in the three-month period and six of the 11 died.

The Cancer Society's campaign for funds to give service at the local level and to help finance research that is ultimately to conquer cancer is now under way in Delta County.

Jack Beck, Cancer Crusade chairman, said the goal is $7,880.

One-half of this total or $3,940 remains here to carry on the work of caring for local cancer patients and to educate the people to the danger signs of the disease; and the remainder goes to Michigan divisional and to the national program to find a cure for cancer.

County Rule In Senate Hassle

LANSING (AP) — One - man one vote districting for county supervisors is scheduled for another examination tonight — this time in the Senate.

The thorny question, tangled by last week's State Supreme Court opinions, is the topic of a House-approved bill sent to the full Senate last week by the Municipalities Committee.

It would require one man-one vote representation with no more than 13 supervisors in any county except Oakland and Wayne, whose boards would range from 20 to 35.

There has been haggling over such points as size of the boards and composition of the county apportionment body. But the bill is expected to pass, then be worked on by a House-Senate committee which must resolve differences between each chamber's version of the measure.

The House and Senate each face a mountain of work in the next two weeks. Nearly 250 items are on the House calendar and more than 100 face the Senate with many more—including the general fund budget—yet to be reported out by spending committees in each chamber.

To meet printing and deadline requirements, the spending committees are expected to offer budget bills by midweek. Gov. George Romney recommended a $944.5 million spending program but his bills were killed two months ago in a technical move.

Near the top of the House calendar are a number of controversial items that were put off last week. These include so-called noncancellable automobile insurance, liquor in state armories, additional pay for legislators with special duties, and discrimination in college fraternities and sororities.

The insurance bill would prohibit cancellation of an auto insurance policy after it has been in effect 55 days, except for specific reasons, such as deliberate misrepresentation by the insured.

Bill Is Aimed At Drive-In Cruiser

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A teen-ager who cruises through the parking lot of his favorite drive-in restaurant too often could lose his driver's license, under terms of a new bill in the Michigan House of Representatives.

The bill, introduced by Republican State Rep. William Hampton of Birmingham, would add such cruising to the list of violations under the state's point system.

A violator would have two points on his record. Under the system, 12 points accumulated for various violations allow authorities to suspend the driving privilege.

Local laws "haven't been able to cope with" the cruising problem, Hampton said, "so it appears we'll have to do it at the state level."

Primrose Gift Aids Children

The operating budget of the John F. Kennedy School for the retarded children of Delta County will continue to operate without deficit for some time to come, thanks to a gift of $400 from Escanaba's own philanthropist, William F. J. Primrose who today presented the check to the Kennedy School.

Primrose has helped the children in the past with first a gift for $100, another for $300, and now with $400.

"Gifts and memorials such as these enable the Retarded Childrens Assn. of Delta County to operate the school and to pay all costs connected with the operation of such a school where 22 children are enrolled and more applying daily," said Albert J. Valind, financial chairman.

All children are evaluated by the Child Clinic in Escanaba before being accepted by the school. They must be recommended by the Clinic as needing this type of training so that when the school comes under the operation of the public school system all children attending will continue to be acceptable for this type of education.

The Retarded Childrens Association also does everything possible for the Children's Unit at Newberry where many Delta County Children are placed. A request for four stand-up tables to accommodate 16 children has been received and will be built by the local association with donated labor and gifts of materials and funds especially for this purpose. The tables normally would cost in excess of $100 each asd cannot be purchased with state funds by the institution.

The public is invited to help in this project with their gifts, said Valind.

Gains And Losses

Delta County Loses 86 Farms In Five Years

Delta County lost 86 farms in the 5 year period, 1959-1964, reports the U.S. Department of Commerce in its census of agriculture.

The 1964 county count of farms was 526, compared with 612 in 1959. For purposes of the census a farm is defined as an establishment of 10 or more acres or more with agricultural production that would normally amount to at least $50, or places of less than 10 acres with production worth at least $250.

The average size of a Delta farm increased from 215.2 acres to 222.7 acres in the five year period and its average value in land and buildings from $14,089 to $14,566.

Value Up

The value of all farm products sold by farms in the county in 1964 was $3,307,2-6, compared with $2,507,962 5 years earlier, a gain of $799,-244 in cash value, of which crops contributed $94,067 more, with a total of $688,310. Livestock sales totaled $2,616,274, up $702,555 in the period.

The number of acres being farmed was 131,696 of the county's total of 755,200 (15.5 per cent), which was a decline of 14,546 acres in 5 years, or a dip from the 1959 percentage of 17.4.

For the first time farms reported recreational income in the farm census and 6 Delta farmers reported that they had a total of $2,622 income in 1964 from hunting, fishing and other recreational services.

Dairy Farms Lead

The largest category of farms still was dairy farms, with 208 counted, compared with 301 five years previously, and 220 miscellaneous or unclassified farms compared with 242 in that category in 1959. The number of fruit farms declined from 30 to 12 and the county listed 4 poultry farms.

Farmers reported that 46 of them had had four years of schooling, 90 5 to 7 years, 221 8 years, 76 one to 3 years of high school and 59 four years of high school, 29 had had one to three years of college and 5 had had 4 years or more of college.

More Oats Grown

Farms raising corn were down from 35 to 17 and they raised 2,360 bushels on 119 acres compared with 4,920 bushels on 250 acres five years previously. Oats for a cattle ration are the county's biggest grain crop and it had 327 farms raising 303,864 bushels on 7,076 acres compared with 242,412 bushels on 7,692 acres in 1959. This was one of the notable gains in the report, a larger grain production on a smaller acreage and fewer farms with better methods.

In hay crop the farm count was down from 343 to 240, and the acreage from 12,269 to 10,-234, and tonnage from 21,076 to 18,597 for alfalfa and alfalfa mixtures cut for hay and for dehydration.

More Cattle Sold

Clover, timothy and mixtures of clover and grasses for hay rose in tonnage on larger acreage and more farms from 9,121 to 12,358.

Irish potatoes for home use and sale had 108 farms reporting instead of 184, with acreage down from 858 to 506 and the harvest down from 182,428 hundred weight to 96,659.

Vegetables harvested for sale declined in value from $53,992 to $35,097.

Cattle sales mounted from 1,865 in 1959 to 2,076 in 1964, and calves from 4,229 to 4,398.

Milk sales skidded from 39.2 million pounds to 34.7 million

Automobiles on farms decreased from 658 to 642, motortrucks from 425 to 390 and tractors increased from 994 to 1,068.

Salmon Added To Taber Show

What are these Coho and Kokanee salmon that have been cast in the role of Savior of the Great Lakes.

Showgoers to the Wally Taber program at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Junior High School will get a first-hand look at the fish through the efforts of the Delta County Sportsman's Club and the Dept. of Conservation.

Aquariums containing the two species of salmon and also the mature steelhead will be set up in the lobby.

Coho salmon plants have already been started in the Great Lakes in hopes of providing another game fish and also a predator on the alewive which have burst into uncontrollable millions.

The Coho Salmon were hatched last spring from eggs received from Oregon. This spring 750,000 Coho will be released in Bear Creek, the Platte River and the Huron River.

When water conditions are right, the salmon are expected to move into Lake Michigan and Superior to grow before returning to the streams to spawn.

The Kokanee Salmon follows much the same pattern but rivals the Brook trout in size and eating quality. They are experimental residents of the Soo Hill Trout Hatchery.

The Steelheads to be displayed are grown representatives of "Project Rainbow" fish released in the Bark and Days Rivers last year to promote rainbow runs. Most of these trout will have migrated to the Bays of Lake Michigan by Mid-summer of this year, to mature before returning in the Spring-Summer of 1967.

Parachutes Save Ballooning Pair

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Two aeronauts parachuted safely from a balloon before it crashed today after ascending to attempt a transcontinental flight.

The pilot, Tracy Barnes, 27, and his engineer, Terry Wright, both of Chester, S.C., were unhurt, the sheriff's office reported.

A sheriff's dputy who saw the crash said the hot-air balloon was up about five minutes and about 1,000 feet high when it started drifting west instead of east.

The 70-foot-tall balloon, valued at $15,000, crashed in the open field near the Sweetwater reservoir in which it landed Saturday afternoon after a first attempt failed. The aeronauts also landed in the field.

Cause of the crash was not known immediately nor was it known if the balloon was damaged enough to cancel the flight.

County Board Makeup

The Michigan Supreme Court has ruled that Michigan's county board of supervisors must restructure themselves to conform to the U.S. Supreme Court's ruling that representation of voters in legislative bodies must be on a one-man, one vote-basis. In other words, that the representatives of the voters must all represent equal numbers of voters.

Like so many other of its recent actions, the Michigan Supreme Court's ruling was closely divided and divided on a partisan line and it leaves the issue still not finally settled.

Justices Kavanagh, Smith, Souris and Adams, all Democrats, upheld the ruling of Kent (Grand Rapids) Circuit Judge Fred N. Searl that the U.S. Supreme Court ruling on legislatures applies to county boards of supervisors too and that they must be apportioned on a one-man, one-vote basis of population only.

★ ★ ★

Republican Justices O'Hara, Dethmers and Kelly rejected the population apportionment of county boards, as had Muskegon Circuit Judge Henry Beers in a case appealed to the Supreme Court. Beers was for keeping the present system until the U.S. Supreme Court spells out its intent. Should its population apportionment principle apply to county boards of supervisors as well as state legislatures?

Judge Searl had said it did, Judge Beers had said it didn't.

The Supreme Court upheld Searl, 4 to 3, with Justice Black voting neither to reverse nor uphold the circuit court opinions. The capitol heard reports that Justice Black was ready to sign with the three dissenting justices. Such a 4-4 split decision would have the effect of upholding both circuit court decisions, and since they are in direct contradiction some other solution would be necessary; either action by the U.S. Supreme Court defining its intention on county board apportionment, or action by the Michigan Legislature restructuring county boards of supervisors.

The Democratic justices' opinion, written by Souris, would strike out the provision in the Michigan Constitution guaranteeing each township a seat on the county board of supervisors.

The Michigan Legislature is currently working on a bill to reconstitute county boards. Its sponsors hope it can be passed this month. It would put limits on the numbers of supervisors to be elected, apportion them on population and call for reapportionment every 10 years. This last requirement has been law for many years, but more honored in the breach than the observance, as Hamlet said, as the party in power ignored it in order to keep its legislative strength.

The proposed legislation would create equal population districts. This would create confusion because it would probably cut across township and municipality lines, but it would be in keeping with both the trend toward equal representation, populationwise, and with destruction of old forms of local government organization in favor of larger districting.

Along with this change from little local units of government goes a change from direction from the county seat. Guidance in the serving of public needs comes now from Washington and is pitched in a national package which creates some weird local anomalies, creating a great problem in civic morals of "Should we take the money anyway?" Even when it is not needed locally?

The prospect is that Upper Peninsula county boards of supervisors will emerge from the troubled present process of change reduced in their members, with more members from the cities and fewer from the rural areas, and with diminished importance. Increasingly in recent years the State Legislature has been telling the county boards of supervisors what they must do in many areas which were once ruled by their own decision. Now their only function in such areas is to appropriate local taxes to perform services directed by the State.

The federal government is now in this same business in a bigger and costlier way. School men cry that the federal government is reducing and reducing its federal help on programs which it got the schools to adopt because it was paying most of the bills.

America is in a historic test of ability to preserve local government. The vote at present runs strongly against survival. Voters veto as a local expense welfare, public works and educational programs which are enlarged by the national administrations they elect. It doesn't make much sense in logic because it costs even more that way, but it sure makes lots of sense politically.

The Doctor Says:

Vitamin B May Be Answer

By Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt

A mother asks the meaning of "spina bifida." This birth defect is fairly common and is the result of a failure of the bones forming the spinal canal to close at some point in the vertebral column.

The seriousness of this condition varies widely. It depends on (1) whether the failure is in the front of the bone canal (often fatal) or in the back, (2) how high in the vertebral column the defect is (generally speaking, the lower the better), (3) whether the cystic outpouching is large or small, (4) whether it contains part of the spinal cord (often fatal) or only spinal fluid, and (5) whether the out pouching is covered by a thin membrane (often fatal) or by a full thickness of skin.

In some infants the defect is so slight it is found only by accident when an X ray of the spine is taken for some other condition. Such a defect is no handicap at all.

On the other hand a child with a knot, well-covered with skin and the size of a hen's egg or even larger that protrudes from the lower portion of the back, will usually develop normallly. Such a child needs to be protected from injury to the cyst until about the age of 3 or when toilet training is complete. Then, as a further protection, the defect can be repaired surgically.

Some authorities believe that if a woman gets sufficient vitamin B throughout her pregnancy there is little chance of this type of developmental defect occurring. This is especially true of women who have morning sickness with their pregnancy because vomiting depletes their supply of this vitamin.

Q — My grandson is in first grade. He loves school but his teacher reports that if she looks at him he cries. His mother took him to school one day and when she left the room he cried. What could cause this?

A — It is possible that too much has been expected of this boy and that his fear of not doing well has gotten him down. He may need a more relaxed home atmosphere. His self-confidence must be built up by giving him tasks that he is able to accomplish and praising his success. Tasks that are beyond his present stage of development should be avoided and his failures passed off in a casual manner. If this doesn't bring about a rapid improvement he may have to have psychiatric help.

Stalls On Picket Bill

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Unless Chairman Adam Clayton Powell of the House Labor Committee has a sudden change of heart, one of organized labor's top priority items — the "common situs" picketing bill — might be delayed quite a while.

A good deal more is involved than the mercurial Powell's whim. The measure is caught in a variety of cross currents.

The bill's purpose is to remove existing court-imposed restrictions upon union picketing at construction sites. Building trades unions are the sole intended beneficiaries. This gives the bill narrow scope, but nevertheless it has broad labor backing.

The Democratic and liberal Republican votes for easy House passage are at hand. Yet many House members are reacting to the "common situs" proposal with a curious combination of nervousness and annoyance.

The most skittish are freshman Democrats, mostly liberals who belong in labor's corner and would vote for the bill. Making their first bid for reelection, they are not eager to stick their necks out on any issue that spells clear trouble for them.

That is the key. They are hearing from the bankers and other businessmen back home whose financial support they need in their campaigns. Home-bailiwick business communities have been put to writing letters and making telephone calls by the contractors' efficient lobby.

These Democratic newcomers in the House do not like the heat at all. But they are not the only members of the House who are upset. The annoyance affects a good many older hands in both parties.

Their pained response is: "When is the Senate going to be first, for a change, in taking the heat?"

Their common feeling is that the Senate leaves too many tough initiatives to the House. They would like to see the Senate act first on "common situs" picketing. At the moment, Adam Powell is playing their game by not asking for action on a bill which is already on the House calendar.

House members particularly feel it is the "Senate's turn" to go out front because that chamber this year managed a fairly painless sidetracking of labor's No. 1 symbolic item, repeal of Taft-Hartley's Section 14 (b), which allows state right-to-work laws.

That the situs picketing measure has generated so much steam is a triumph for its adversaries in the construction business.

Some of the back-home businessmen who are now buzzing their jumpy congressmen might or might not be surprised to learn that former President Dwight Eisenhower repeatedly, over a span of six years, called for adoption of a situs picketing proposal.

They almost certainly would be astonished to learn that former Sen. Barry Goldwater, never marked down as a close friend of organized labor, introduced a bill (S. 748) in 1959 with language favoring broad situs picketing and closely paralleling the provisions suggested by Eisenhower and others in both parties.

★ ★ ★

A now-resolved major dispute within labor's own ranks threw up a roadblock to action for a considerable time, but the measure has enjoyed consistent bipartisan support and is widely thought of as "unfinished business" on Capitol Hill.

The measure would permit a union having a dispute with a single subcontractor at a construction site to place a picket line around the entire project operation, even though the general contractor and other subcontractors are not directly involved.

In the Supreme Court's Denver Building Trades case, upholding a National Labor Relations Board ruling, such picketing was deemed a secondary boycott—as defined, and banned, by the Taft-Hartley law. The ban was intended to free innocent neutrals of involvement in labor controversies.

The present bill exempts construction picketing from this ban, on the theory that everyone working on a common building project is really engaged in a single enterprise and no secondary boycott is involved.

Increases in mentally ill and retarded contacts were 4,500 in 1965 over the previous year and 8,500 more than the 1963 count.

A sharp proportion of this resulted from the relatively new community care programs. More than 22,800 people were served in community-based state programs or jointly funded local clinics and day care centers.

The department also measures its growth in other terms. It recorded payments of $2.7 million in 1965 for patients from various special programs such as social security, railroad retirement and Veterans Administration. In 1965, these receipts totaled $1.8 million.

About half of these special benefit funds are for personal needs of the patients: clothing, candy, dentures, wheel chairs, etc.

A third measure of growth of what might be called mental health consciousness is found in the second edition of the "Directory of Michigan's Psychiatric Services," a publication of the Michigan Society for Mental Health.

Where the first edition, published in 1960, listed 61 agencies, the new volume lists 116 agencies which provide 185 different services.

Included is a completely new category, listing 22 community general hospitals offering psychiatric services. Six years ago these were practically non-existent except in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Letters To The Press

PRAISE

I guess it takes something like the performance last Sunday to point out to me, and maybe to others, the influence of teachers in a community.

With the performance of "The Messiah" by Handel, Mr. Conrad Beck presented to this community a contribution far beyond the routine classroom work that so many feel is all that teachers do. Certainly, other teachers helped in the presentation of this tremendous Easter Oratoria, but to Mr. Con Beck must go the heartfelt thanks for planning, organizing and staging "The Messiah".

Good teachers bring good education. Good education brings good communities. I'm glad I live in one of them.

Arol E. Beck

Dr. Harlan Hatcher
President,
University of Michigan

At its last meeting, the UPCAP delegate body directed that I send you a letter commending Charles Follo for his work as chairman of the UPCAP Human Resources Committee.

Mr. Follo's work has been outstanding. Under his able leadership the committee has developed what we feel is a very meaningful program to promote school district reorganization, the development of vocational education, and new programs for disadvantaged children.

Mr. Follo has been very generous with his time and his counsel has been indispensible. We are aware, of course, that his efforts are not only personal ones, but are part of the public service offered to the Upper Peninsula by the University of Michigan Extension Service.

Allow me, then, to voice the sincere appreciation of the UPCAP organization to your institution for its services to our area, and let me add my own personal gratitude to "Mr. Upper Peninsula" for his many contributions over the years to this region.

Harold L. Dettman,
UPCAP Chairman

Ann Landers

No Open Door Policy For College Dorm

Dear Ann Landers: I'm a female, aged 20, a sophomore at a large midwestern university. I'm writing about something that is bugging students on every campus in the country. We are demanding emancipation from the unrealistic and hypocritical rules designed to inhibit our sexual activity.

A group of crusaders for sexual freedom took a blind poll of our dorm last week. The question was: "Are you a make-out or a hold-out?" Each girl was asked to check A or B. (We wanted to insure honest responses so we didn't ask for signatures.) Well, 85 per cent of the girls said they were make-outs, while 15 per cent said they were hold-outs. This poll suggests that the vast majority of college girls have already made that decision so what do the school authorities think they are saving us from, anyway?

We believe each girl must decide for herself where to draw the line or IF she wishes to draw a line at all. We also believe that dorms, both men's and women's, should be open to members of the opposite sex, day and night.

Why drive students to expensive motels, rented rooms, the beaches, or — worst of all— into uncomfortable cars? If our minds are made up we will find a place — and you can bet on it.

We need backing from people like you. Please help us to persuade college administrations to treat us like mature adults. It is not only absurd, but degrading, to be policed as if we were 12 years old. —MY NAME IS LEGION

Dear Legion: You don't need to tell ME that when your minds are made up you will find a place. I get dozens of letters every day from girls who have found the place. They ask me to help them find ANOTHER place. A home for unwed mothers.

I don't believe dorm rules ever saved even one girl's virtue. You are right, the school can't save something that the girl herself doesn't think is worth saving. But your suggestion that the administration endorse an Open Door policy because dorms are more comfortable than cars — and cheaper than motels — is ridiculous.

While it is true that an individual's conscience is still the best policeman in the world, rules and regulations are essential in a well-ordered society. Some sterling characters would behave precisely as they now do if there were no rules, but most of us need guidelines. We need to have limits set to save us from ourselves.

When you kids were living at home did your parents allow you to entertain members of the opposite sex in your bedrooms at all hours of the day and night? And what would you have thought of them if they had allowed it? Most college students are being put through school by parents who are sacrificing to do it. The restrictions are part of the total package and college kids should not resent it.

A college that provides a cozy setup for intramural sex must accept full responsibility when its students get into trouble. And many of them would. YOU can bet on it.

Wildlife Is Where You Find It

Call Of Wild - Downtown!

By LEE SMITS

Raccoons upset suburban garbage cans. Occasionally there will be deer tracks within 20 miles of the Detroit City-County Building. The upper end of the Detroit River has a year-around flock of mallard, supported by hand-outs; nesting at the edges of parking lots. And in spring and fall the heart-lifting music of Canada geese flying over a crowded town.

Wild creatures learn to steer clear of man, the most destructive of all predators. They also learn that if they get close enough to the dwellings of man they are safe. Pheasants are permanent residents of the weedy strips along railroad tracks in automotive centers. Cottontails ruin shrubbery in residential neighborhoods.

The cuckoo is a weird character. The cuckoo I heard every summer before tree-spraying started was as shy as any wild turkey. Try to spot him with binoculars as he said "owk-owk-owk" from a leafy tree top. At best, a quick glimpse of a slender bird, and the "owk-owk" stopped.

There is a yellow-billed cuckoo and a black-billed cuckoo. Perhaps a person with better knowledge of birds could have told which cuckoo it was from its call.

★ ★ ★

We can skip the extraordinary appearance of a moose in downtown Sault Ste. Marie, a deer in a Trenton steel plant, a bear on the main street of a northern Michigan town. Robins dive-bombing an infant screech owl within Detroit's Boulevard Loop is easily accounted for as is a sparrow hawk chasing sparrows between skyscrapers.

Then comes a bright Sunday in early spring and the war cry of a crow. High in an ancient cottonwood tree sat a great horned owl. The crow, perched within 10 feet of the owl, was calling for reinforcements. None showed up. Came a bluejay to sit near the crow, obviously hoping for mob action against the owl. There they were, the owl and his hereditary enemies, less than two miles from the vortex of Michigan's metropolis.

The cottonwood tree, a white ash across the alley, a sycamore next door, a swamp oak at the end of the block were reminders that within an average lifetime this was a swampy woodlot in farming country. The neighborhood might have been the hunting ground of the owl's ancestors.

The crow's yawping attracted no additional owl-haters. The crow made a token swoop at the owl, then flew away. The owl disappeared after it was sure the coast was clear.

★ ★ ★

Hawks and owls are protected by law in Michigan. The great horned owl, with a wingspread of five feet, yet weighing no more than a pheasant, is a killer. It will attack anything it can lift, including stray house cats and skunks.

On a hemlock ridge in Mackinac County crows were assembling in the fall, preparing to go south. Large numbers of crows spend the winter along the Ontario shore of Lake Erie.

On a moonlit night an owl descended on the roosting crows. The solitude was shattered by a screaming chorus, almost human. There were curses, shrieks of outrage, anguish, despair. The racket lasted for perhaps 10 minutes. Next morning there were many blood-splattered feathers under the hemlocks and next night no crows came to roost on the ridge.

Bay City Boat Works Destroyed

BAY CITY (AP) — Fire levelled Huskins Boat Works here Sunday, causing damages estimated by the owner at over $400,000 and destroying several yachts in winter storage.

No injuries were reported, although escape of the elderly couple who owned the business was described as nearly miraculous.

Witnesses said neighbors swam a narrow slip of water, built a foot-wide bridge of planks and rescued Ben Huskins, 70, and his partially-paralyzed wife, Leona, 68.

Among the boats destroyed was a 60-foot, $100,000 cruiser built for Dr. Harold Kruger of Bay City. It was to have been launched next month.

The largest sailing catamaran on the Great Lakes, a 42-footer, was lost.

Huskins, well known to Great Lakes yachtsmen, was builder of the unlimited hydroplane Miss United States III.

The fire was believed to have started in the boat works. Cause was not immediately known.

Stargazer Is Dead Satellite

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — "We're heartbroken," said a space agency spokesman in announcing the failure of America's Stargazer satellite after only two days in orbit.

For an unknown reason, the orbiting astronomical observatory (OAO) lost all its battery power Sunday, and the two-ton satellite whirled silently and uselessly around the globe.

It never had a chance to exercise its 10 telescopes, which astronomers had hoped would unlock secrets of the stars and perhaps provide clues to the origin of the universe.

Scientists had worked for years to perfect OAO, the first astronomical observatory ever sent into space. All were disappointed at the failure but said they hoped it would teach them lessons about the second OAO, scheduled for launching early in 1967.

The lessons will be costly. The satellite, one of the heaviest and the most complex unmanned payload ever launched by the United States, had a price tag of about $50 million. The Atlas-Agena rocket that hoisted it from Cape Kennedy Friday cost about $12 million. Several thousand dollars were added to the cost by five postponements of the flight.

The failure of an Atlas-Centaur rocket Thursday pushed the total cost of the back-to-back fizzles here to more than $75 million.

Gets By Judge

NEW YORK (AP) — When fashion model Phyllis Jaffe appeared in a Manhattan traffic court, the court attendants winked at each other.

But Judge Evelyn Richman, who believes women who appear in court should be properly attired, didn't even raise an eyebrow. Apparently all she saw was a pair of trim legs under a blue fox coat.

Forewarned, Miss Jaffe, 24, had rolled up her heavy slacks above the knee — and held them in place with rubber bands.

No Opposition, No One Voted

SPEARMAN, Tex. (AP) — Hansford County School Board members are perplexed over how to fill a vacancy on the board — if one actually exists.

A board election was held April 2. L. L. Edge, who has served on the board for 21 years, was the only name on the ballot for Precinct 2.

But no one went to the polls to vote, not even Edge. He said he was sick that day.

The state attorney general's office was asked for a ruling. It replied: "We have never heard of such a thing happening and can find no record of any decision made in such a situation in the past."

Under state law Edge is the board representative from that precinct until a successor is sworn in.

Father Of Eight Is 1-A In Draft

ALLEN PARK (AP)—Victor C. DiStefano has eight children. He also has a 1-A draft classification.

DiStefano, 34, says his Brooklyn, N. Y., draft board has ordered him to report to a Detroit induction center April 23.

DiStefano said the 1-A classification was somewhat ironic since the Army, Navy and Air Force all rejected his applications for a commission in 1955 although he had only two children then.

DiStefano, a registered nurse at a General Motors Corp. plant in nearby Detroit, said Sunday he possibly may have failed to tell his draft board about the births of his last three children.

He said he couldn't remember if he had done so, but added that he had brought the board up to date and was awaiting an answer "but you never can tell about draft boards."

DiStefano said he earned about $7,000 a year, adding that he'd be glad to go into the service but feared Army pay wouldn't take care of his family. He said he understood the highest Army rank available to him on induction would be first lieutenant which pays about $485 a month before tax deductions, or less than $6,000 a year.

First Wagnerian festival was performed at Bayreuth, Bavaria, in 1876.

Editor Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Wellington Wales, member of the editorial board of the New York Times, died Sunday, apparently of a heart attack. He was 48. His son Samuel G. Wales, 19, had been killed Friday night in a train accident

Holland Mother Of Ten Named Michigan Mrs.

CHICAGO (AP) — A mother of 10 children has been named Mrs. Michigan of 1966.

Mrs. Gary W. Vreeman, 38, of Holland, officially was given the title Sunday by sponsors of Mrs. America Inc. She will compete with 50 others at San Diego, Calif., April 29-May 8 for the Mrs. America title.

Mrs. Randall E. Phillips of Flint was runnerup and Mrs. Frank Wassenaar of Alma was second runnerup.

Mrs. Vreeman is women's director of radio station WJBL and does a daily broadcast from her home.

The mother of five boys and five girls answers to Wilhelmina or Nickie as well as Mom. Her husband is a grade school principal.

There was unofficial announcement of Mrs. Vreeman's choice Saturday, but at that time Mrs. America Inc. insisted there had been no final selection and said it had not received back Mrs. Vreeman's contract to carry - through if chosen Mrs. America.

With no local Mrs. America sponsoring organization in Michigan, the state winner was selected on the basis of photographs and information submitted by contestants and interviews, with final judging by a committee in the sponsor's Chicago office.

SCHOLARSHIPS for the winner in the 1966 Delta County Queen Pageant include a first prize of $150 scholarship to the school of her choice plus a $100 scholarship to Bay de Noc Community College donated by Augie Yanke. Entered in the contest is Miss Cherie Maskart, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Maskart of 559 N. 9th St., Gladstone. Her talent presentation will be a costume skit and piano solo. (Lee's Studio)

Shrine Members Completing Plans For Charity Ball

As the evening of April 23rd approaches, the Shriners of the Delta Shrine Club are busily at work preparing for their 11th annual Charity Ball to be held at the Terrace Ballroom. The evening will feature a buffet supper, dancing and awards which are donated by local businessmen.

The Terrace has had an expansion program in progress on their main ballroom and the Shriners are honored to be the first group to host a party in the newly remodeled room. In past years the Shrine Ball has always attracted a capacity crowd and it is felt with the new accomodations an even larger crowd can be more efficiently handled.

Tickets are available from any club member, Ernie's Party Store, The Morrison Shop, The Leader Store, Gust Asp's, and Tang's Color Headquarters in Gladstone. Members are asked to return their donations as early as possible to help completion of arrangements.

MISS LINDA GOOD, 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Good, 2551 Lake Shore Drive, Escanaba, is one of the 11 candidates entered in the Miss Delta County Queen Pageant to be held April 16 at 8 p.m. The event will be staged in the Escanaba Area High School Auditorium. HINTS FROM Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I was so happy with one of my discoveries that I just had to share it with you, in thanks for the many helpful hints I've enjoyed over the years.

Here is my experience:

I bought a round dinette set and found myself with many of the wrong size and shape tablecloths for it.

On shopping around, the only round cloths the size I needed were too expensive, so I came up with the idea of a flowered bed sheet.

I purchased one 81 by 108 inches, cut off one end (the one with the wide hem), and by cutting this strip in half and sewing just two seams in each, had a lovely pair of pillowslips.

Then, with a pencil on a string, I traced and cut a circle 15 inches larger than my table. I hemmed the circle, and sewed ball fringe around it.

I still had enough from the edges of the sheet for four small napkins which I fringed out on the edges.

Result:

One large round tablecloth, one pair of pretty pillowslips, and four luncheon size napkins for less than five dollars.

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:

After reading in your column about the daughter-in-law who keeps her mother-in-law from telling her how to do things, by saying, "Heloise said do-it-so-and-so. . ."

Thinking it would help, I tried it on my mother-in-law today, only to have her reply, "Don't try that on me. I read Heloise every day!"

Red Wings Turn On Tormentors; Humble Hawks

CHICAGO (AP)—The Detroit Red Wings, humbled and walked upon by the Chicago Black Hawks all season long, erupted vengefully Sunday to take the favorites' role in their Stanley Cup semifinal playoff series.

After losing to Chicago 11 times during the regular season against one victory and two ties, and dropping the opener of the best-of-seven series, 2-1, the Red Wings hammered the Hawks 7-0 Sunday.

The victory not only squared the series at one game each but had a national television audience wondering how Chicago could have manhandled Detroit throughout the season.

"All I can say is it's a long time coming," said Detroit Manager Coach Sid Abel. "We didn't win here all year long and I guess we were due."

The scene now shifts to Detroit where the next two games will be played Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Assuming the Wings, who seldom lose at home, can capture these two contests, they'll return to Chicago next Sunday afternoon. If Detroit fails to wrap it up then, the two teams will go back to Detroit April 19 for what could be the finale in the series.

In the other semifinal set, the Montreal Canadiens take a 2-0 advantage to Toronto for Tuesday night's game against the embattled Maple Leafs.

The Canadiens completed a two-game sweep on their home ice Saturday night by blanking the Leafs 2-0.

The teams meet again in Toronto Thursday night.

Sports In Brief

CHICAGO (AP) — For the second successive year, Cazzie Russell of Michigan has been named the Big Ten's most valuable basketball player. Russell, named Saturday, gets the silver basketball awarded annually by The Chicago Tribune. Stan Washington of Michigan State was among nine players Russell beat out for the honor.

KALAMAZOO (AP) —Western Michigan whipped Marshall of West Virginia 8-1 in a Mid-American baseball game Saturday. Western now is 1-1 in the league and 5-1 over all.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Western Michigan won the shuttle hurdle relay event Saturday at the Kentucky Relays. The Broncos took it in 58.5, a relays record.

MUNCIE, Ind. (AP) —Michigan State and Ball State split a baseball doubleheader Saturday. The Spartans dropped the opener 9-5 and took the nightcap 4-1.

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—The president of the International Ski Federation, Marc Hodler, said Sunday Sapporo and Banff, Canada, are the most likely candidates for the 1972 Winter Olympics.

A CLEAN START

Bragan Figures Braves Can Win

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Major league baseball officially comes to the Deep South Tuesday night and Atlanta Braves' Manager Bobby Bragen has adopted a "why not a pennant, too?" type of attitude on the eve of the opening game.

Braves officials report that about 45,000 tickets have been sold in advance for the opening game with Pittsburgh. The $18 million stadium seats 55,000.

With a smile of optimism, Bragan said he sees the National League pennant chase as a six-team race, "and we're one of the teams."

His opening opponent, Pittsburgh, also is one of the teams, he said. The others are Los Angeles, Philadelphia, Cincinnati and San Francisco.

But Bragan, anxious to bring a World Series to the South in a hurry, eyes Cincinnati as the team to beat. "I pick us and Cincinnati to battle it out for the pennant," he said.

Offense Scores Six Touchdowns

ANN ARBOR (AP) —Michigan wound up its fourth week of spring football practice Saturday with the blue-clad offensive squad scoring six touchdowns against the white - clad defense in a two-hour scrimmage.

Baseball Campaign Begins Today; Humphrey Reliefer

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax and Don Drysdale aren't acting any more.

That became apparent during the weekend when baseball's first $100,000-plus pitching pair, holdouts until 12 days ago, put in strong bids for opening-week starting assignments with the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers.

Koufax pitched six innings of no-hit ball, striking out nine and retiring the last 16 men in order, as the Dodgers defeated Cleveland 3-0 Saturday. Then Sunday, Drysdale pitched six innings of shutout ball, allowing just six singles and striking out four in a 6-0 victory over the Indians.

The performances in the closing exhibition games left the aces of the Dodger staff, who combined for 49 victories last year, anxious to make their first starts sometime this week.

Ready This Week

"I'll be ready to pitch Wednesday and I'll go as far as I can," said Koufax. But he cautioned that "we'll just have to wait and see how far that can be."

"I feel the same way," said Drysdale. "I'll be ready Friday and I'll pitch as many innings as I can."

In light of their lengthy holdout siege, the ability of Koufax and Drysdale to pitch as effectively as they did Saturday and Sunday has to be considered a plus factor for the Dodgers, who earlier estimated longer delays before the pair would be ready.

Koufax, as a matter of fact, will be getting a jump on last year's pitching schedule if he opens Wednesday — the Dodgers' second game — since his arthritic elbow kept him on the sidelines until the fourth game last season.

Osteen Gets Nod

Claude Osteen draws the opening day assignment for the world champions. He is scheduled to go against veteran Robin Roberts of Houston as the regular season gets into full swing with an eight-game program following Monday's traditional openers at Washington and Cincinnati.

With President Johnson remaining in Texas for an Easter holiday, Vice President Humphrey will be his reliever, throwing out the first pitch of the season as the Senators meet Cleveland.

Then Pete Richert will take the mound for Washington while Sam McDowell, the American League's answer to Koufax, starts for the Indians. At Cincinnati, the 82nd National League opener will match the New York Mets and Jack Fisher against the Reds and Milt Pappas.

Five Day Games

Tuesday's schedule shows five day games and three nighters. The American League has most of the day action with Kansas City at Minnesota, Detroit at New York, Baltimore at Boston and California at Chicago.

Chicago also will be at San Francisco for a day game with the remainder of the National League schedule at night. Pittsburgh will play the first major league game at Atlanta, Philadelphia will be at St. Louis and Houston at Los Angeles.

Besides Atlanta, one other franchise shift has been made—the Angels moving south from Los Angeles to Anaheim — but six clubs will show off new managers.

The Cincinnati - New York meeting focuses on two of the rookie managers, with Don Heffner making his debut as the Reds' field boss and Wes Westrum beginning his first full year as Casey Stengel's successor with the Mets.

Leo With Cubs

Other new managers are Leo Durocher with the Cubs, Eddie Stanky with the White Sox, Al Dark with the Athletics and Grady Hatton with the Astros.

In all, 20 teams are confident they have a shot at the two pennants, but the Las Vegas oddsmakers are sticking with the Dodgers in the National League while champion Minnesota and Baltimore have been established as cofavorites in the American League.

The Orioles have received strong backing since acquiring one of the National League's brightest stars, Frank Robinson. Robinson, the slugging outfielder who compiled a .303 lifetime batting average in 10 seasons with the Reds, already is being called the AL's top player.

The entire American League, meanwhile, came out ahead of the National in games played between the two leagues during the exhibition season. The AL won 80 games and lost 74.

Reds Beat Sox

The Reds had a particularly tough time against the Chicago White Sox, finally getting their first victory in eight meetings Sunday, 9-3, with home run help from Tommy Harper, Don Pavletich and Tommy Helms. The White Sox finished with the best exhibition record, 21-7.

In other closing pre-season games, St. Louis edged Kansas City 7-6 in 10 innings, California downed San Francisco 6-5, Boston belted Washington 6-1, the New York Yankees nipped Atlanta 2-1, the New York Mets thumped Baltimore 6-3, Philadelphia crushed Pittsburgh 11-5, and Minnesota whipped Houston 8-1.

Detroit and the Chicago Cubs took on Pacific Coast League opponents, the Tigers losing to Oklahoma City 9-4 and the Cubs beating Tacoma 3-1.

GOLFERS Tommy Jacobs, Jack Nicklaus and Gay Brewer (left to right) join in a three-way handshake after they wound up 72 holes of Masters tournament play at Augusta National Golf Club in a three-way tie with par 288 scores. They will play it off today. (AP Wirephoto)

Three-Way Knot Puts Masters In 18-Hole Playoff

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Tommy Jacobs and Gay Brewer, a couple of outsiders, were overshadowed by the menacing, dominant figure of Jack Nicklaus going into today's three-way, 18-hole playoff for the green coat that goes to the Masters champion.

"I've blown three chances," the defending champion growled after finishing the regulation 72 holes in a tie with Jacobs and Brewer at 288, even par for the demanding Augusta National Course.

"I don't intend to blow another."

Jacobs and Brewer had already finished and were sitting nervously on the sidelines Sunday when Nicklaus missed by about two inches on a 25-foot birdie putt on the 18th that would have won it for the Golden Bear.

When it just missed, Jacobs and Brewer suddenly — and just for today — were elevated to The Big Three. The exclusive club more normally composed of Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player has shared the title in this classic seven of the last eight years.

Palmer made his bid and failed, finishing two strokes back. Player never was in it.

The playoff was scheduled for 1:45 p.m., (EST) with national television (CBS) of the concluding holes starting three hours later. In the event of a further tie, sudden death will be in effect, starting at the first hole.

It's the fifth playoff in Masters history and the second involving three players.

The winner will get a check for $20,000. The runnerup will receive $12,300 and third place will be worth $8,300. The total purse was $152,880, an increase of $15,205 over last year.

Nicklaus, gunning for a third Masters title and a record second straight, has had rounds of 68-76-72-72; Brewer has turned in scores of 74-72-72-70 and Jacobs has scored 75-71-70-72.

Army beat Navy 19 straight times from 1922-1933 in their annual football game.

Houston Farm Whips Tigers

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The Detroit Tigers ended spring baseball exhibitions with a 13-13 record and a humiliating 9-4 defeat by a Houston Astros farm club.

Oklahoma City, defending champs of the Pacific Coast League, drubbed the Tigers Sunday on nine hits, including six in two innings off reliefer Joe Sparma.

The Bengals earlier had handed the 89ers three unearned runs on two errors by Dick McAuliffe and one by Ray Oyler, his replacement.

Sparma was credited with his second loss against no victories.

Detroit scored first, on a double by Willie Horton and a single from Don Demeter. But 89ers struck back on Tom Murray's 529-run homer following a McAuliffe error.

Back came the Tigers on Oyler's two-run triple. Then Sparma went wild, allowing Mike Sinnerud a two-run double and J. C. Hartman a two-bagger with the bases full.

Larry Sherry finished up with two shutout innnings for Detroit. The Tigers scored one more in the ninth on a triple by Gates Brown and an infield out.

Detroit opens its regular American League season on Tuesday at New York against the Yankees.

Terry's Holdout Ends With K.C.

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ralph Terry refused to sign with Cleveland when the Indians offered him $31,000. But the veteran right-hander agreed to terms Sunday with the Kansas City Athletics — for $31,000.

The A's received the right to negotiate with Terry by trading left-hander John O'Donoghue to the Indians. Cleveland also sent Kansas City $25,000 in the deal.

Ralston Choice In Net Tourney

HOUSTON (AP) — The 32nd annual River Oaks Tennis Tournament opened today with 48 matches on the schedule.

The qualifying field of 64 was to be reduced to 16, with the survivors joining the 16 exempt players in the men's singles play Tuesday.

Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., ranked fifth in the world and No. 1 in the United States, is the top seed in the tournament, trailed by Australia's Tony Roche and John Newcombe, and Cliff Richey of Dallas.

Graustark Firm Favorite To Win Kentucky Classic

By The Associated Press

Graustark was more firmly entrenched than ever as the Kentucky Derby favorite today. But some of the luster had worn off Moccasin, 1965 Horse of the Year and champion 2 year-old filly.

The long-striding son of Ribot, out of action since being sidelined two months ago with a hoof injury, came back to competition last Saturday at Keeneland in superb condition.

It was only a six-furlong race compared to the Derby distance of 1¼ miles and the competition in a betless race was nothing to shout about.

But Graustark, with Braulio Baeza in the saddle, won by four lengths as he stepped the distance in 1:09 3-5, then went another eighth of a mile to complete seven furlongs in 1:22 3-5. He eased up the mile in 1:37—all of which pleased owner John Galbreath and trainer Loyd Gentry very much.

The victory was the sixth in an unbeaten career for Graustark. He won three last year before suffering a leg injury and now has chalked up the same number this year. His next start likely will be the 1⅛ miles of the Blue Grass Stakes at Keeneland, 10 days before the Derby.

Moccasin also is eligible for the Derby but she'll likely sidestep that race in favor of the Kentucky Oaks for 3-year-old fillies on May. 6.

Moccasin, however, turned in a disappointing performance, losing by four lengths as she finished fourth in a six-furlong race with Stealaway, stablemate of Graustark, winning in 1:10 1-5. It was the Claiborne Farm filly's first start since last November when she took the Gardenia for her eighth straight triumph.

Moccasin also is eligible for the Derby but she'll likely sidestep that race in favor of the Kentucky Oaks for 3-year-old fillies on May. 6.

Eastern - based Derby nominees get another chance this Saturday to show whether they are worthy of challenging Graustark in the Run for the Roses. They'll meet in the one mile of the Gotham at Aqueduct with Priceless Gem, another highly regarded filly, a likely starter against the Max Hirsch-trained entry of Indulto and Buffle and the Eddie Neloy-trained duo of Impressive and Stupendous.

Hawks Battle Back; 76ers Blow Chance In Playoff Action

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Hawks have scraped themselves off the floor in the National Basketball Association playoffs. The Philadelphia 76ers are still trying to figure out what hit them.

St. Louis fought off elimination in the Western Division playoffs Sunday night by outlasting Los Angeles 112-100 on the Lakers' court.

The Boston Celtics pushed Philadelphia to the brink in the Eastern Division finals Sunday afternoon by erasing an eight-point deficit in the fourth quarter and stunning the 76ers in overtime 114-108.

Tuesday night St. Louis, trailing Los Angeles 3-2 in their best-of-seven series, entertains the tired Lakers while Philadelphia, down 3-1, tries to rebound at home against the Celtics.

"I can't believe it, man. I can't believe it," Wilt Chamberlain muttered after the Celtics rallied behind Sam Jones and John Havlicek to overtake the 76ers before a screaming crowd of 13,909 at the Boston Garden. "It will be a long, hard road for us now."

The 76ers must win three in a row to make the final round. Two straight will do the job for the Hawks, who bounced back on the scoring of Len Wilkens and Cliff Hagan.

The Lakers, showing the strain of back-to-back games more than the determined Hawks, fell behind by 10 points in the third quarter and couldn't catch the visitors. Jerry West led Los Angeles with 31 points.

Sam Jones scored nine points and Havlicek eight in the Celtics' fourth quarter spurt. Then, after K.C. Jones' free throw with 39 seconds to go tied it at 100-100, forcing the overtime, Sam Jones and Havlicek hit for four more points apiece as Boston pulled away in the extra period.

George Leach, 17, Old State Rd., pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice A. J. Mortier of Gladstone. He was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail, but Justice Mortier suspended 27 days of the sentence on the terms that Leach return to school and make satisfactory grades.

Two Injured In 2-41 Crash

Two Delta County residents were hospitalized Saturday after a two-car crash on U.S. 2 and 41 in front of the Log Cabin about 8:30 p.m.

State Police of the Gladstone Post said Cassius Bebeau, 55, of 321 S. 7th St., Escanaba, apparently pulled out of the Log Cabin driveway into the path of a car driven by James Berg, 19, of 914 Superior Ave., Gladstone. The accident remains under investigation.

Bebeau was reported in "fairly good" condition and Berg was listed in "good" condition this morning at St. Francis Hospital.

Hospital officials said Bebeau suffered chest injuries. Berg had numerous bruises, but x-rays for fractures proved negative.

The accident was one of four investigated over the weekend by State Police and the only one involving personal injury.

Troopers said, however, that a hereford cow was killed at 9:10 p.m. Saturday when struck by a car driven by Francis Beauchamp, 22, of Rte. 2, Bark River. The cow, owned by Raymond LaMarche, Rte. 1, Escanaba, walked into the path of Beauchamp's car on Co. Rd. 414 in Wells Township.

Police also were still seeking to talk to Raymond VanEnkevort, 29, of Elmwood Park, Ill., who was apparently involved in an accident at 5:40 p.m. Saturday. Officers said he left his car after rolling over at the intersection of Co. Rds. 533 and 521.

Leonard Skrobiak, 19, of Rte. 1, Bark River, escaped injury when his car rolled over off U.S. 2 and 41 near Co. Rd. 569 at 12:30 a.m. Sunday. State Police said a wheel of his car got stuck in a rut along the edge of the road and he lost control. He was not ticketed.

A ticket was issued to John Moyle, 1417 N. 22nd St., Escanaba, for riding three persons on a motorcycle.

FRIENDLY FELLOW—In close-up he may look menacing, but he is really a friendly fellow, and a little one—that's a finger in the foreground. The nonpoisonous tiger salamander, making a friendly call in Casper, Wyo., can be found spring mornings in many parts of the country in lawns and gardens where he's an aid to gardeners in controlling snails and insect pests.

Detroit Tigers Will Play Yanks In First Clash

DETROIT (AP) — Rated by some as a pennant contender and by others as "the team" to beat in the American League, the Detroit Tigers will open the regular baseball season in New York Tuesday.

Manager Charlie Dressen said Sunday he would start Mickey Lolich, who pitched the opener in Kansas City last year, against Whitey Ford of the Yankees.

Dressen will stick to an all-veteran lineup, with the exception of centerfielder Mickey Stanley, for the opener.

The only other starter who did not open the season with the team in 1965 is Bill Freehan who was sidelined by a back injury.

Three new players acquired in off-season deals and a rookie who finished the season with the Tigers are included on the 28-man roster.

Pitcher Bill Monbouquette and infielder Dick Tracewski were added to the roster via trades, while catcher Orlando McFarlane was drafted from the Pittsburgh farm system.

Lefthanded pitcher John Hiller is the rookie. He appeared in five games the latter part of last season and pitched a total of six innings.

Dressen, looking for his third pennant as a manager, feels the Tigers have a good chance because of depth in pitching and the physical condition of some of the regulars.

Freehan, for instance, has recovered from the back injury and Al Kaline's foot is no longer slowing him down.

"Just let us stay healthy and we'll give them a run for their money," Dressen stated.

LSU Athletic Chief Mistaken For Prowler

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — The bullet that gravely wounded James J. Corbett, Louisiana State University athletic director, was fired when he was mistaken for a prowler, police report.

Chief David Keyser said it happened Thursday night when Corbett, a heart patient for seven years, stumbled to a motel window seeking help after being stricken with severe chest pains while driving.

Keyser said the occupant of the motel room, O. S. Coleman, about 45, of Sorrento, La., fired a 22-caliber derringer out of the window when he saw a hand reach in.

Corbett said his chest pains were so severe it was a moment before he realized what had happened, though the impact of the bullet knocked him down. He then made it back to his car and tried to drive on.

The auto swerved off the street and hit a tree.

Chief Keyser called a news conference Sunday night to outline the case. The investigation had marked time for two days while police waited for Corbett to recover sufficiently to be questioned.

Coleman told police he didn't realize anyone had been hit until he learned the next day that Corbett had been found, near death, slumped in his car in the same general vicinity as the motel.

Chief Keyser said Coleman then returned to Baton Rouge to report the shooting.

"No arrest has been made and no charges have been filed," said Keyser. "An arrest is not anticipated, in view of the statements made to us by Mr. Corbett and Mr. Coleman."

Drill Satisfies Spartan Coach

EAST LANSING (AP) —Michigan State's Big Ten football champions ran through their first spring season scrimmage Saturday, and Coach Duffy Daugherty indicated he was satisfied with the starter.

For an informal type scrimmage—the Spartans didn't bother with touchdowns—Daugherty ran 20-odd plays for each of several units starting from the 20-yard line. There were no kickoffs.

Dobbs Is Quiet On Army Future

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Texas Western football Coach Bobby Dobbs says he will remain tight-lipped about the West Point football coaching vacancy until sometime today.

Dobbs and Col. Ray Murphy, Army's athletic director, met Saturday night and Sunday in El Paso to discuss the West Point coaching post, opened last week with the sudden resignation of Paul Dietzel.

"At this time I have no plans past the telephone conversation with Murphy on Monday," said Dobbs. "Neither side is committed right now."

Dobbs disclosed that he will confer again with Murphy about the position.

Verdict Tuesday In Baseball Case

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The verdict in Wisconsin's antitrust battle with baseball now is expected to come only hours before the former Milwaukee Braves are scheduled to open in Atlanta Tuesday.

White-haired Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller, who worked from morning until past midnight Easter Sunday preparing his decision, said he did not expect to be ready to announce the ruling until Tuesday morning.

The State of Wisconsin is asking that the Braves be ordered to return immediately to Milwaukee unless and until expansion is assured. Should it win its suit, the verdict could leave the National League wrapped in a legal web of epic complications at the very outset of the season.

The 38-day antitrust trial, with more than a million words written into the record, ended last Wednesday with a dramatic offer by the state to drop its demand for the Braves return if the National League would promise Milwaukee an expansion team not this year but next.

Rumors of a settlement since have come and gone. Nothing of substance has surfaced.

Baseball Commissioner William Eckert said last week the Wisconsin offer would be studied. He said nothing over the weekend. In both Milwaukee and New York, there were uniform denials that any contacts toward a compromise had been made.

In Memoriam

Bergerson

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Charles J. Bergerson, who passed away one year ago today, April 11, 1965.

Your memory is a keepsake
With which we will never part,
Though God had you in his keeping,
We still have you in our hearts.

The family of
Charles Bergerson

Bergerson

In living memory of our dear son and brother, James Bergerson, who passed away one year ago today, April 11, 1965.

We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
We think of you in silence,
With grief that's deep inside.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall,
You had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Your voice is mute and stilled,
The heart that loved us well and true,
Oh bitter was the trial to part
From one as good as you.
The heartbreak of that tragic day
Will never from us part,
As long as life and memories last
You'll always live within our hearts.

Sadly missed by Parents, Brothers and sisters - Darlene, John, Sandra, Debbie and Ted

Bergerson

In loving memory of our dearly beloved (Jim) Charles J. Bergerson suddenly killed one year ago April 11, 1965.

Many a lonely heartache,
Often a silent tear.
But always a beautiful memory,
Of one we loved so dear.
Your gentle face and patient smile
With sadness we recall.
You had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
You little thought when leaving home,
You would return no more,
That you in death so soon would sleep,
And leave us here to mourn.
We do not know what pain you bore,
We did not see you die;
We only know you passed away,
And could not say goodbye.
Quick and sudden came the call,
Your sudden death surprised us all
We often sit and think of you,
And speak of how you died.
We think of you in silence, dear,
With grief that's deep and true.
There's always that sad longing,
Could we only speak to you,
Heavy are our hearts this day,
Memory brings you back our way,
To the times with us before,
And the happy days of yore.
You live with us in memory still,
Not just today, but always will.
May God bless and keep you dear,
Rest in Peace; His voice you'll hear.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by
Emil and Kate

Bosch Favored For Dominican Elections Win

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Juan Bosch, self-styled spokesman for the Dominican Republic's underprivileged, may soon have a second chance as president of his troubled nation.

Cheering delegates nominated the 56-year-old writer-philosopher Sunday as the presidential candidate of the Dominican Revolutionary party in the June elections.

Bosch, whose followers triggered the 1965 revolution in which the United States intervened, is considered the front runner in a contest expected to include at least three other major presidential aspirants.

Bosch couches his speeches in simple folksy language that appeals to the common man.

His upper-class critics see distortion, bitterness and vindictiveness woven skillfully into his oratory. But in the neighborhood grocery stores, bars and fruit stands, the ordinary folk cluster transfixed around their radios when Bosch speaks.

"Juan Bo' lo sabe todo — Juan Bosch knows it all," they say reverently.

Bosch is a political paradox. A left-of-center liberal, he is damned by other liberals while conservatives are among his staunchest partisans. He has often been accused of playing up to the Communists, but Red leaders are known to fear his hold over their favorite prey, the common man.

Bosch took office in February 1963 as the first freely elected Dominican president in 30 years. Prospects looked promising. He had a mandate from more than 60 per cent of the electorate. Sugar, keystone of the Dominican economy, was selling on the world market at 11 cents a pound. It brings only 2 cents now.

But the political machine Bosch had helped create became enmeshed in a factional power struggle. Just seven months after he took over, a military coup forced him back into exile. There were no demonstrations or protests on his behalf.

Last spring followers of Bosch touched off bitter fighting in an attempt to bring him back from exile in Puerto Rico.

Powers-Spalding Study Pleads

Consolidate To Improve

The recent poll of sentiment on school redistricting in northern Menominee County by the Public Poll Committee from Northern Menominee County showed the following first choice trends in the three areas of polling:

Carney-Nadeau: Consolidate with no one, 37; consolidate CN, Powers-Spalding and Hermansville, 19; go to Stephenson, 9. Of 295 forms sent out, 68 were returned for 23 per cent.

Hermansville: Consolidate with CN & PS, 18, consolidate with no one, 46; go to Norway, 8. Of 290 forms sent out 81 were returned, 27.9 per cent.

Powers-Spalding: Consolidate with CN & H: 111, consolidate with Hermansville, 8, consolidate with no one, 9; go to Escanaba, 1.

Class D Schools

Walter Petersen of Powers, for the Poll Committee, said "The three school districts of Carney-Nadeau, Hermansville and Powers-Spalding are all Class D schools, the lowest rates class of schools in the state. Classes mean the resident number of students in that district. Being in this small group has a most distinct disadvantage.

"We cannot give our boys and girls enough diverse and intensive training to allow them to compete after graduation on an equal footing with students graduated from larger school systems. Our boards of education are doing what they can with what money is available. For this they are to be commended. Is it enough for our kids? We feel the answer is No!

"The poll results from the Carney and Hermansville areas, in view of the reactions from local officials, would be of doubtful consequence since influence other than individual thoughts were brought to bear. The Powers district, with the highest percentage of returns, would appear to be a reliable sampling.

Reactions Surprise

"The reactions to the poll were far diferent than was expected. The poll form content was intended to be an open question of general interest to all three districts. We felt the obvious gains to each local board of education would overshadow any adverse feelings. It was also expected that the school district, upon receipt of the poll would either in interest, curiosity or perhaps a shade of anger try to find the cource.

"Two phone calls would have eliminated the adverse conditions that did follow. In this area the committee will agree that some degree of error was made. We felt that John Q. Public would accept the pool as a positive action in the best interest of all three school systems.

(Editor's Note: The Carney-Nadeau Board of Education made public announcement that it was not responsible for the poll and did not identify its authorship.)

Ignorance Of Finances

"We wanted not to agitate but to stimulate. Consolidation in some direction is as certain as the tax collector. Any studies without one or more goals to work toward can only end in aimless wandering. Don't take a stand but stand ready for any opportunity which will benefit our boys and girls. They are the future for which we are working."

Mrs. Margaret LeBombard of the Hermansville School district said she was not surprised at the results of the poll. She believed it was due to lack of interest and lack of knowledge of school finances.

"I cannot understand," she said "how people will shop around to get the most for their money when they are buying a car, a home, groceries, clothing, machinerl, etc., and yet when it comes to buying an education for the children in the area, they let a handful of men tell them that their money only entitles the children to an education in a Class D school.

Costs Mount

"We are told that if we consolidate it will raise our taxes and yet I cannot see how they can consider asking for a millage increase. Isn't that raising the taxes? Our operating costs went from $99,000 in 1964-65 to about $118,000 in the coming year and we have had 4 classes of 6 students and 2 of 8 students. I don't know but that may be about the same this year. How can they justify the costs of classes that size?

"Let's get together, find out what our money could buy and get it to the public and let everyone make their own choice."

Mrs. LeBombard is on the Menominee County School Reorganization Board.

Council Elects Mayor Tonight

The election of a mayor to serve the City of Escanaba for the next two years will be the first order of business of the City Council in organization meeting at 7:30 tonight.

Mayor George Rusch is completing a two-year term.

Customarily the Council elects as its presiding officer the candidate receiving the highest vote in the recent election. This candidate on April 4 was Councilman Harold Vanlerberghe, who was reelected for a four-year term.

Vanlerberghe has been on the Council for six years and was mayor for two years.

Beginning terms on the Council will be Vanlerberghe and Edward J. Cox for four years, and Cecil Chase for two years.

H. George Nelson and Rusch are hold-over councilmen.

The Council tonight will also appoint three citizens to serve as members of the Board of Review and on the Board of Supervisors. The incumbents are L. J. Jacobs Wesley Hansen and Matt Smith.

Midget Sub Had Narrow Escape

WOODS HOLE, Mass. (AP)— Two pilots of midget submarine Alvin say they were nearly trapped on the ocean floor during their efforts in recovering the hydrogen bomb lost off the Spanish coast.

The Alvin's three pilots, William O. Rainnie Jr., Marvin J. McCamis and Valentine P. Wilson, returned Sunday to the Oceanographic Institution, which operates the research submarine.

The bomb that had been missing since the crash of a U.S. nuclear bomber Jan. 17, was recovered from the Mediterranean after it was located about five miles off shore by the Alvin.

The pilots said the narrow escape occurred after the bomb had been found once, lost again and then found a second time.

Rainnie said McCamis and Wilson made a last-minute check of sonar devices attached to the bomb, maneuvered it and then brushed against a parachute billowing out behind the bomb.

By reversing engines, Wilson said the sub moved gingerly out from the parachute. But he said had Alvin's propeller become entangled in the chute there would have been no way of getting them back to the surface.

Evelyn Waugh Dies Sunday

LONDON (AP) — Evelyn Waugh, whose pungent satires made him one of Britain's most successful novelists, died Sunday at the country home where he lived the squire's life he so often lampooned.

Waugh, 62, died of unannounced causes soon after returning from Easter services to his home near Taunton, in western England.

As a writer, Waugh was acclaimed by critics all over the world as witty, sophisticated and sometimes brilliant. In private life, he was retiring and avoided publicity.

Born in London, the son of a publisher of modest means, Waugh became fascinated by the social whirl of the British capital. He attended Oxford in the mid-1920's and gained entry into the glittering set he so admired.

The novels he wrote before World War II were satirical studies of the social set.

Vandals Damage Churchill Statue

WOODFORD GREEN, England (AP) — Vandals tried to overturn the statue of Sir Winston Churchill Sunday night here in the district northeast of London which he represented in Parliament.

Police found a 20-yard piece of rope tied to the neck of the statue and tire ruts where a car had apparently pulled on the rove.

The statue was loosened from its base. The city council arranged for it to be repaired.

Koreans Stone U.S. Ambulance

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — An angry Korean crowd stoned an American ambulance after the vehicle accidentally killed a 7-year-old Korean boy, the U. S. Army said today.

The ambulance was en route Sunday to the Kunsan air base hospital with an unidentified U.S. soldier, paralyzed from the waist down, the Army said.

It gave this account:

The ambulance encountered a crowd around a bus on the outskirts of Kumje, about 125 miles south of Seoul. Several persons in the crowd directed the ambulance around the bus. The ambulance was moving in low gear.

Suddenly it was halted and the driver and his assistant learned that the ambulance had run over the boy, Chung Ku Im of Kumje. Neither man had seen him.

The driver tried to persuade the crowd to let him take the boy to the hospital but was knocked unconscious by a stone. The crowd shattered the windshield, yanked the vehicle's distributor wires loose and inflicted cuts on the driver and his assistant.

Korean police took the boy and the driver to a hospital in Kumje, where the child was pronounced dead. The paralyzed soldier was transferred to another vehicle and taken to the air base hospital.

The soldier had slipped and fallen on his back at an Army camp.

Air Force Sets Missions Limit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force is limiting its fliers to 100 missions against targets in North Viet Nam during any one tour of duty in the war zone.

No limit applies to the number of missions that can be flown against Communist targets in South Viet Nam.

The new policy went into effect in January, the Air Force said.

County Board To Reorganize

The Delta County Board of Supervisors will reorganize for 1966-67 at 10 a.m. Tuesday at the Delta County Building.

Included on the agenda is election of a chairman, introduction and swearing in of new supervisors and election of a member to the County Building authority to fill the expiring term of James T. Jones.

The City of Escanaba will have at least two "new" supervisors on the County Board as the result of the April 4 City Council election.

Elected were Edward J. Cox and Cecil Chase, who will also serve on the County Board; and returned to the Council was Harold Vanlerberghe. Cox is a former councilman and supervisor. Chase has never before held public office.

There were indications today in Escanaba that three appointed members, Supervisors L. J. Jacobs, Matt Smith and Wesley Hansen, will be reappointed by the Council and continue as supervisors also. The appointments to the board will be made by the Council tonight.

Gladstone will also appoint two supervisors to the Board at its regular meeting tonight at he City Hall.

Also included on the reorganization agenda are reports from the County Road Commission, Pinecrest Medicare Facility and state audit reports from 1964 on Delta County and Pinecrest.

The Board will also authorize the county's tax valuation for 1966 and consider a report by the Ways and Means committee on the 1967 county budget.

Salvagers Fight Over Hulk Of Viking Princess

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The blackened hulk of the cruise ship Viking Princess, apparently involved in a salvage fight, was somewhere south of Cuba today, being towed toward Jamaica.

The once gleaming white $16-million pleasure craft, which carried carefree passengers on winter Caribbean cruises, burned Friday morning in the Windward Passage, between Cuba and Haiti, while sailing to Miami with 496 passengers and crew members.

Two passengers died of heart attacks when the ship was ordered abandoned shortly after a fire and explosion had occurred in the engine room.

After the flames had died, a Liberian freighter, the Navigator, put a line on the abandoned vessel and started towing it toward Jamaica, according to the Navy's Atlantic Fleet Headquarters in Norfolk, Va.

The Navigator was joined Sunday by the salvage tug Cable out of Key West, Fla., hired by the owners of the Viking Princess.

Salvage rights to the Viking Princess appeared to be in dispute.

Navy and Coast Guard vessels, which had aided in the evacuation of the passengers and crew, left the scene Sunday, saying there was nothing more they could do.

Capt. Otto Thoresen, credited with saving the lives of many of the passengers and crew by ordering the ship abandoned, said in Miami Sunday that salvage rights on the ship would be left up to the insurance companies. Thoresen, a veteran of many years at sea, was the last man to leave the stricken vessel.

The ship is owned by a Norwegian company, Berge Sigval Bergsen, and is operated by Flagship Lines Agency, Inc., of New York.
